CARLUKE DICTATOR

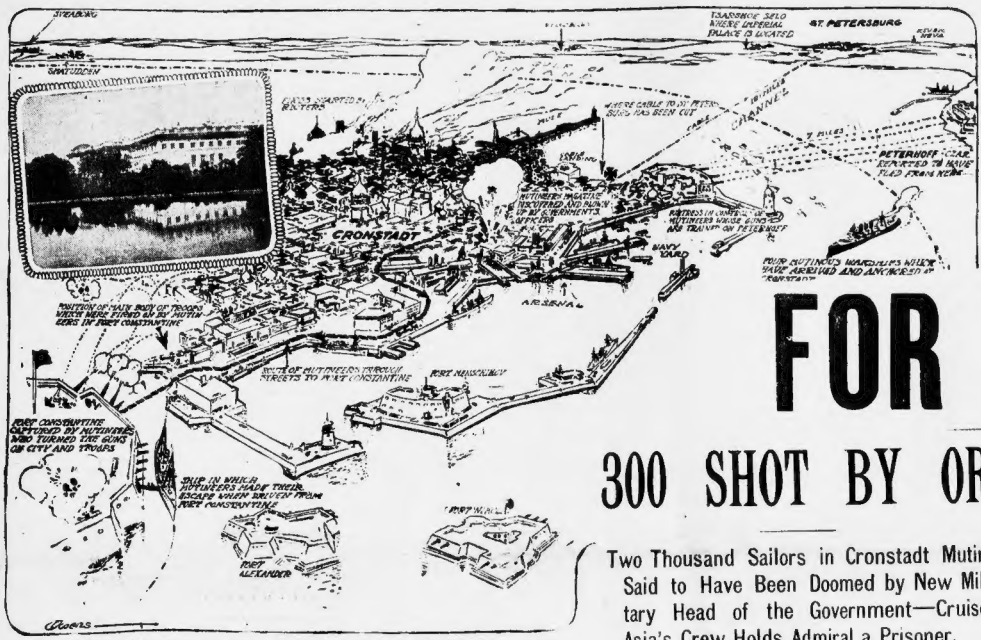

DIAGRAM SHOWING CZAR'S DANGER IN CRONSTADT MUTINY.

At the right of the diagram is the Peterhof, in range of the mutineers' guns, and the upper left corner is a picture of the Tsar's boat, with a palace the Emperor and family are said to have fled for safety.

Asking $100,000 Damages for Defamation, CHASE SUES PHILLIPS

Husband of Rich Swampscott Woman Suicide Now Accuses Her Brother.

Latest Phase of Events That Followed Death of Mrs. Jennie P. Chase.

Dr. Hersey W. Chase of Boston, whose suit for the million dollar estate of his late wife, Mrs. Jennie P. Chase, is still in the State court, has brought suit in Stoughton against his brother-in-law, Leonard H. Phillips of Swampscott, one of the contestants of the will, alleging defamation of character in testimony given by Phillips in the will contest.

In December 29 last, in the Salem Probate Court, Mr. Phillips swore, among other testimony, that Mrs. Chase testified that she knew one of the defendants in the will contest, and that both Mr. Chase and his son, the late DeForest W. Chase, used vile language toward her. Mr. Phillips was cross-examined by Attorney Robert V. Moore, who he believed Mrs. Chase's brother, and who was charged with the duty of proving the charges against her. Mr. Phillips denied these charges.

WOMEN WITNESSES IN CHELSEA GRAFT PROBE

ALDERMAN'S WIFE AND GIRL CLERK CALLED BEFORE GRAND JURY.

Two women were summoned to the office of District Attorney John P. Moran today as witnesses before the Suffolk grand jury in the investigation of charges of graft in Chelsea Board of Aldermen, which Mr. Moran is conducting.

The first of them, Mrs. Helen I. Hall, wife of an Alderman, Hall of Chelsea, was called into the jury room at 11:30 o'clock. The other, Miss Margaret Smith, clerk for Alderman Alfred H. Wrenn, her father, was called in Mr. Moran's outer office, waiting for her turn before the jury.

This is the first time Mr. Moran has summoned women before the grand jury in any of these "graft" investigations. It is one of the few times also in the history of Suffolk county.

300 SHOT BY ORDER OF NICHOLAS

Two Thousand Sailors in Cronstadt Mutiny Said to Have Been Doomed by New Military Head of the Government—Cruiser Asia's Crew Holds Admiral a Prisoner.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—The crew of the Russian cruiser Asia, which was sent to Abo, has mutinied and hoisted the red flag. Admiral Borileff is said to be in irons and threatened with death by the mutineers.

The vessel has sailed toward Sveaborg, where the revolt started. Immense imperial forests in the Kostroma district are burning. This is believed the work of revolutionists.

Military disorders have broken out at Reval. Details cannot be obtained.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—Three hundred of the 2000 sailors in the Cronstadt mutiny have already been shot and frequent firing within the forts indicates that the work of general execution is in progress. Grand Duke Nicholas, it is said, had ordered execution by court-martial for every man in the uprising.

REVAL, Aug. 3.—The cruiser Pamjat Azova has arrived in the roadstead here in the possession of the loyal portion of the crew.

One hundred and fifty of the mutineers have been sent ashore and imprisoned. The loyal men gained the upper hand of the mutineers at sea.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 3.—Semi-official reports say that the Czar has decided on Grand Duke Nicholas as military dictator for the Empire. Stolypin's plans for Cabinet reorganization have been rejected.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from St. Petersburg says that General Linievitch, who was the last commander-in-chief of the Russian armies in Manchuria during the recent war with Japan, will be made commander-in-chief of the army at home, with the idea of restoring discipline in the army at any cost.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A dispatch from Warsaw says the Summer camp at Rembertoff is in mutiny. Loyal troops composed of infantry and Cossacks have been sent to put down the uprising.

All of Us Travel on Crutches

And ALL Should Act Cautiously.
The Drunkard on Crutches of Wood
Was No Exception

At the door of a drinking saloon on a busy street the usual morbid crowd gathered, watching an unfortunate creature upon the ground.

It was not a woman, fortunately, that the crowd was watching, but a man. He was gray-haired, past fifty. In falling he had dropped his wooden crutches.

Two men of kindly impulse lifted him to his feet and tried to balance his unsteady body and brain upon the crutches once more.

In the crowd a cynical voice said:

"Wouldn't you think a man on crutches would have sense enough not to drink?"

That is the text of this editorial.

WE ARE ALL ON CRUTCHES, AND THE BEST OF US IS BALANCED NONE TOO WELL.

We have risen recently from barbarism and brutality. Of all human beings on earth now a great majority are still savages in every way. And those that CALL themselves "civilized" are far more than half animal in their nature. Lynching crowds, prizefights, mockery for the unhappy drunkard and a thousand other daily sights prove that we are only animals still.

We are trying TO WALK as decent men.

Our crutches are KINDNESS on one hand and JUSTICE on the other.

These crutches have been recently manufactured BY OUR BRAIN.

Whatever interferes with the brain knocks the crutches from under it.

Folly made that poor, gray-haired man drink when he knew that he needed all of his mind to control those wooden crutches. Nobody knew what DROVE him to drink at the risk of physical disaster.

How much more foolish are other men who know they need all of their mind to balance their MORAL crutches?

Drink destroyed the balance of the man with wooden crutches and threw him to the ground.

More surely will drink destroy the moral balance and throw down the mental crutches that uphold us all.

Think this out for yourself in detail.

Think of the man who is remarkable for his devotion to his family and to the public welfare.

Don't you KNOW that drink makes such a man indifferent to all duty?

It is POSSIBLE for a man on wooden crutches to drink and still keep the crutches under him. You may see, occasionally, a drunken man keep his balance on crutches or a wooden leg.

BUT IT IS NOT POSSIBLE FOR A MAN TO BE A DRUNKARD AND KEEP THE BALANCE THAT HIS MORAL CRUTCHES GIVE HIM.

That remark, "Wouldn't you think a man on crutches would have sense enough not to drink?" applies to every man. AND, MOST OF ALL, TO THE MOST MORAL MEN.

We have crutches for the mind—MORAL CRUTCHES—as we have wooden crutches for the body.

Remember that the desperate thing about drunkenness is that it knocks the MORAL crutches from under us, throwing us back to the prostrate brutal animal condition of the past.

Remember that a man with intelligence who deliberately allows drunkenness to deprive him of more force is infinitely more to blame—BECAUSE HE IS MORE INTELLIGENT—than that poor old man who allowed drink to get the better of his wooden supports.

Destruction Hovers Over Russia

in the outbreaks which are now of daily occurrence within its dominions the little Czar can read nothing but destruction. The time is past when he or his grand dukes can indulge in any hope that they will be able to restore anything resembling peace.

The Czar has had his opportunity—the greatest, probably, that ever came to a monarch.

Had he been anything but a weak, cowardly little aristocrat he could have accorded his people a measure of liberty that would have made Russia a great nation.

But this opportunity he has deliberately thrown away.

His own army has deserted him. His very fortress are in revolt, and there is not a city in the length and breadth of the empire where the people are not ready to rise.

All that is lacking now to revolution is organization. That will come in time. Leaders will rise who will unite the oppressed people and direct them intelligently in their war on their oppressors.

But until that time comes a reign of terror must ensue. Scattered and unorganized unrest will express itself in frightful outbreaks, mutinies and riots.

Far better it were for the Czar if the forces resisting him were gathered together and marching in a general rebellion. Then at least some of the forms of civilized warfare would be observed. But now the people are separated in bands of men thirsting for revenge.

And the revenge that they will take will be a lesson for all tyrants in all times.

In many suburban towns to-day pursuit of higher things than supplying the body's needs. Any man who has carried on a baggage express business with success and other employment if he keeps his mind open.

The unit of progress is to make men more alert. He is content to stay there like a stone, he is lifted by the crowd of progress, he should be thoughtful and ready for his own good, and himself the task of looking about for the benefits which are certain to come if he accepts it in that spirit.

Years ago the stage drivers in New England met in conference to try and make some plan whereby the dreadful railroad might be prevented from coming through the land. In Connecticut, when the first mover was made to build a railroad through Meriden in 1825, the strongest opposition came from the old tavern landlord, the stage owners, drivers and liveries men, even the farmers, joining the movement, claiming their cattle, pigs and chickens would be destroyed.

Yet the railroads have created work for ten thousand men to every one they put out of business.

No More Drudgery
When the sewing machine was invented there was a hue and cry raised about taking the bread from the mouths of poor women.

Who would want to live to-day without railroads or sewing machines? The more machines, the more electric conveniences, the more mechanical contrivances, for labor, the better for humanity.
